

Self-Direction Workshops

March 31, 2017

Do you have questions about how to self-direct your waiver services and the benefits to your family?

The Louisiana Developmental Disabilities Council continues its workshops across the state hosted by families or self-advocates already directing their own services. In these workshops, co-hosted by Families Helping Families, you will hear how one family benefits from self-direction and manages the responsibilities. This opportunity will allow you to get any questions you have answered from a personal level and give you specifics of how one family benefited after switching to self-directed waived services.

Workshops for the months of April - September are listed below. Additional workshops are still being scheduled across the state so please check back HERE for an updated list.
